FLIES OVER CREEK -- The car left the pavement on U. S. 45 about two and a half miles south of Frankfort around noon on Sunday and hurdled the creek. It was estimated the car went thru the air for a distance of 125 feet before it hit the ground and rolled. The occupant, Rowlyn Rasmussen, 18, of Burlington Wis., was hurled thru the windshield when the car landed. He is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, where his condition was listed as serious. The lad was following a car driven by his father, Alvin Rasmussen, of Mokena. When the father noticed his son was no longer following him he retraced his route twice without seeing the wreckage. Villages Will Honor War Dead With Parades, Services

While in a number of communities Memorial Day has become just another holiday to be observed thru picnics, outings or trips. Frankfort, Mokena, Marley and New Lenox plan services in honor of the dead of American wars.

Lack of attendance or participation in public services has caused some places to discontinue them, it was explained.

"It should be the duty of all citizens," declared the spokesman of a patriotic organization, "to contribute an hour or two out of the year to attend services expressing reverence and loyalty to those who gave untold hours as well as their lives to enable us to continue to live in a free country which too many just take for granted."

A firing squad from the Nike base at Orland will take part in the services in the Mokena cemeteries.

Programs in the area include:

Memorial Day

Once again the nation or at least a large portion of it will observe Memorial Day.

In the north the date is May 30. In many of the southern states Decoration Day is observed earlier because the difference in climate spells the difference in the blooming of garden flowers. And originally most people were dependent on homegrown blossoms with which to decorate the graves of the soldier dead.

Memorial Day was inaugurated to honor the soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the War Between the States. The custom of decorating such graves began in the south and spread north.

Later on as the ranks of the Civil War veterans grew thin the custom of decorating the graves of American service men came to include those of other wars.

For many years only a token force of Civil War survivors actually took part in Memorial Day observances. They were two few and too feeble. Their parts were taken over by their sons and daughters and now they too are few in number.

Now there are no men living who served in the Union or Southern forces of the Civil War. The only ones left to parade and visit the cemeteries today are a scattering of those who were in the Spanish War, and those of the two World Wars and the Korean War.

There are still many veterans of the World and Korean Wars but how long they will continue to observe Memorial Day is problematical.

Already in some communities the custom of holding Memorial Day programs has been shelved and it will be just another holiday given over to outings, picnics and trips that have no relation to the original purpose of the day.

This is too bad but we hope enough people will cling to the idea so that our soldier dead will always be remembered.

Retaining links with our past, especially those events which have contributed so much to the building up of this nation, is no hamper to progress.

As a result of our recent Vegetable Judging School over 20 young gardeners have an improved idea of what quality vegetable crops are like. They are also better acquainted with insects and diseases which attack vegetable crops. Alden Miller, Research Associate at the Downers Grove Experiment Station helped our 4-H'ers judge plates of vegetables, grade potatoes, and identify vegetable varieties.

A short contest was held to see how well the instruction had "sunk in." Those who scored high in this contest will be invited to attend a district judging school at the DuPage county fair grounds on June 21.

The 1960 price supports for soybeans, oats, barley, and grain sorghums will be at least as high as those for 1959 crops. The minimum price support for corn will be at the national rate of $1.06. This is six cents a bushel below 1959 supports.

May and June are a good time to take stock of your grain storage situation. Government payments for resealing corn on farms may help to pay the bill for modernizing farm grain storage facilities.

Elm leaf beetles may soon appear in northern Illinois. Elm leaves will be skeletonized by small, dirty, yellow to black, spiny larvae. This pest is particularly severe on Chinese elms. To control them, use 4 to 6 pounds of lead arsenate 2 pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT powder or 2 quarts of 25 percent DDT emulsifiable concentrate per 100 gallons of water as a spray.

According to a news report on radio last week the Democrat leaders attending a banquet in Chicago were said to have been unanimous in their support of President Eisenhower's stand in the current blow-off by Russia's blustering Krushchev.

This corner is glad to hear that because if they had been against him Adlai (Jockey) Stevenson probably would have proposed three rousing cheers for Nikita and a boo for the President.

As it was he contented himself with saying--according to the reports of his speech--that it was all Eisenhower's fault that the summit conference was broken up and that as long as the Republicans are in power it will be impossible to "make successful negotiations" with the Russians.

We can be very thankful that the Jockey (the name was applied sometime back during the horse-meat scandals that plagued Stevenson's administration as governor) failed to get enough votes on the occasions he ran for the Presidency, because it appears likely he might have accommodated the Reds and made their negotiations quite successful indeed.

And for the Reds success has just one meaning--that they have their own way.

Stevenson said the Republicans would probably be saying that the Russians will be hoping for election of a softer President, a Democrat, in November.

Well, if they say it, there is some reason for it. It was FDR that insisted on the recognition of Red Russia and he became quite generous with our goods and money as well as being palsy with Stalin.

Stalin, who could have incorporated as Murder Wholesale, was if you remember, Good Old Joe during the regime of Ex-President Truman.

Joe not only got all he asked for but the Roosevelt-Truman combination gave him more.

Now comes Stevenson protesting because we haven't given in to Russia.

"How do you suppose we would feel," the old Jockey said, "if the Russians had a plane based in Cuba which they would use to fly over Cape Canaveral and Oak Ridge?"

It wouldn't surprise this corner one whit--whatever a whit is--if the Reds not only have planes based in Cuba but that they also have a big spy ring there, plus provocateurs to stir up trouble in South America and North America.

It certainly is no secret but that hundreds of Red spies have been rounded up in the United States and there is no doubt but there are hundreds of spies here now and will continue to be here in the employ of the Russian government.

Yet Stevenson would give the impression that our plane which came down in Russia shouldn't have been there--that there were were, spying on a friendly people whose only aim was to be buddy-buddy with the whole world.

There has been talk going the rounds that Stevenson doesn't want to be President now but rather secretary of state.

There is a gruesome thought for you but try and not hold it while awaiting sleep. It could become a nightmare and you wake with the screaming meemies.

Personally we are for the United States and to you-know-where with Russia and all its captive states and their Communist aims and policies.

Don't ever forget for one minute that the foundation on which the Red party rests is world revolution--that it expects to continue its fight until it has control of the entire world and it doesn't make any difference how it turns the trick--lie, cheat, steal, kill--it's all one the Reds say, the end justifies the means.

And as I heard a man say in a restaurant the other day--"what good is a summit conference or any other conference in which the Reds have a voice because you already know they won't keep any agreement any longer than it is profitable for them to do so. Anytime you make a concession to a Red you are just inviting him to make another demand. To hell with them."

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The stock market has not been impressed by the antics of the Russians at time of the proposed summit meeting.

Prior to the day of the proposed meeting, the market had risen somewhat and at the opening of that day, the rise was continuing. In mid-morning the Krushchev maneuver to shock the world and scare as well, was flashed on the news tickers.

The result was a halt in the rise of the market for about an hour and then a continuation of the advance. Economic events had greater influence than the theatricals and threats of the Russians.

It is not so long ago that such international actions, would have had heavy reactions on the market. For some time the science stocks have been in favor and the international events added more interest in the science issues as well as aircraft, oils, and high energy fuels.

The Russian moves are not taken lightly, but rather the financial community has been appraising the situation and has come to the conclusion that the difficulty with Russia, in world events, is something we shall have to live with for a long time. Some analysts have been consulting the history books which reveal that the Russians have a long history of expansion through absorption of countries which have been unable to protect themselves. History under the Czarist and Communist regimes has been the same except that the Communists have been more successful in their efforts to acquire control of neighbors.

Investment men would seem to be convinced that a balanced budget is not very likely. It is rather obvious that substantial budget items will be controlled by Moscow rather than Washington. We must be ready to checkmate Moscow's moves. Also, as in all dictatorships, there is a constant struggle for power within the small group holding such power. It is difficult for people living under conditions such as our own, to realize that constant turmoil and emergencies are necessary in dictatorships. They must also develop various spying and intelligence sources to a high degree to stay in power. In Czarist Russia, the secret police were most powerful. There is little change except use of modern equipment and communications.

It is noted that a number of commentators have stated that the "U2" plane said to have been shot down, was developed for the specific purpose of flying very high and with special photographic equipment. It is believed no other country has such a plane and that it is doubtful that the plane was shot down - rather that it lost altitude due to unfortunate events in the plane itself.

Russian sources stated the plane was 1,300 miles inside Russia when forced down. It is said this plane has been operational since 1957.

A number of leaders in the investment field express the belief that there will be further inflationary pressures altho probably smaller than that of the last few years. The new developments of the last few days certainly will not lighten the pressure.

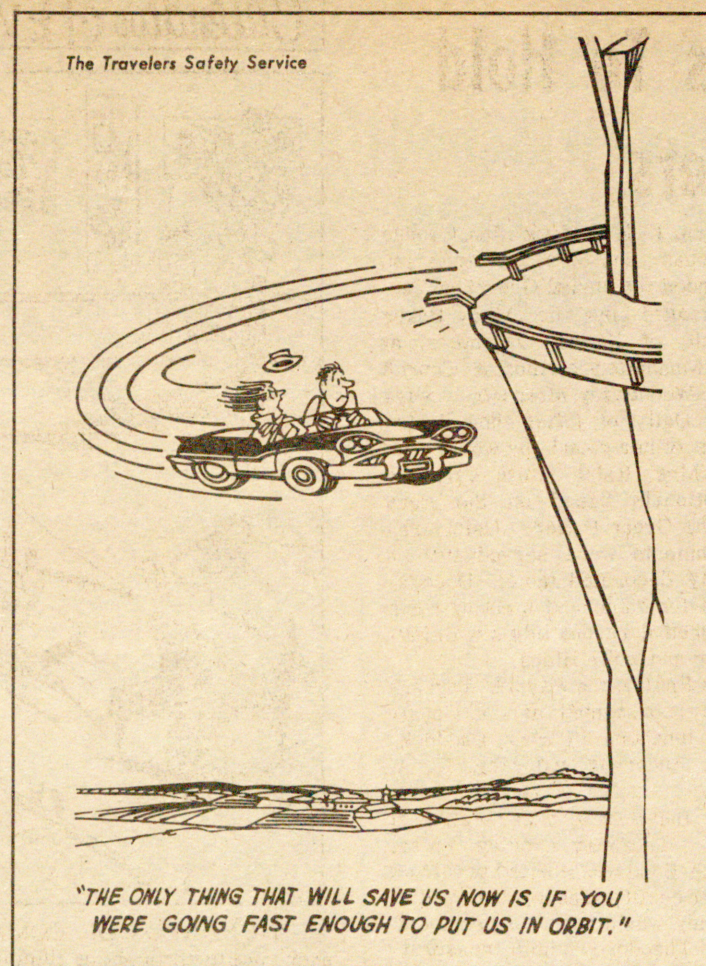

The Federal Reserve board is expected to lower margin requirements from the present 90 percent to 70 or even as low as 50 percent.

Tri-Counties To Nominate Circuit Judge On June 4

The Republicans of the 12th judicial circuit, which is made up of Will, Kankakee and Iroquois counties, are to hold a convention at Kankakee June 4 to nominate a candidate for circuit judge to replace the late Judge C.D. Henry who died April 20.

The Democrats have set the date for their convention, also to be at Kankakee, for June 7 but party chieftains have not indicated yet whether they will put up a candidate.

The 12th circuit is Republican and political observers feel that the Demos will not put up a candidate unless some wealthy, open-handed party member steps forward and insists on footing the bill. This is a general election year and the Democrats are without payroll funds in any great number so campaign funds may be at a premium.

The Will county GOP central committee selected 77 delegates for the convention at a meeting last Monday.

The Will county group is said to be prepared to string along with the Kankakee delegation in support of Victor Cardosi for the nomination and it was expected Iroquois county would also endorse him.

Cardosi is city attorney of Kankakee and has also been attorney in that area for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Joliet since it was formed in 1949.

Judge Henry's successor is to be elected at a special election called for Aug. 16 by Gov. Stratton. Henry's term would have run until 1963 as he was elected in 1957. Since the term had more than a year to run the special election was called.

Since Judge Henry was from Kankakee county his successor will be drawn from there, it was said. Will county, the largest of the three that make up the circuit, needs another judge and according to C. H. Peterson, GOP chairman for Will, it is expected the legislature will enact a law to permit the 12th circuit to elect four judges at the next regular judicial election three years hence.

At that time Will county can put up two candidates and expect to have them nominated since it has the votes to control the convention.

Mokena C. Of C. To Resume Talk On Land Uses

Discussion of plans to attract business from residents of surrounding subdivisions proved such an interesting topic to members of the Mokena Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Tuesday night that when the hour grew late they adjourned until next Tuesday evening, May 31, when the subject will be pursued further.

Will Tuttle, president of the Chamber said the group hoped to also come up with a solid plan to attract new industries to the area.

Robert Geuther, chairman of the Mokena plan commission was a guest at Tuesday's meeting and invited to speak. He outlined briefly the commission's reasons for recommending various zoning and kindred matters to the village board.

Geuther urged that residents take a fresh approach toward utilizing available land with a definite aim. The checkerboard program now employed, he warned, will leave the area without land for industry and proper development.

Hints For Homeowners

BY

James Fizzell,
Ass't. Farm Advisor

Dutch Elm disease is not the only disease which is infecting the elm trees in this area. There are several other diseases, which, although not as fatal as Dutch Elm, nevertheless account for their share of dead or damaged elms. Some of these diseases produce symptoms much the same as Dutch Elm, and often it is necessary to run a laboratory analysis to be sure which disease is present.

Probably the most prevalent elm tree disease in this area is a vascular disease known as wetwood. This disease, caused by a bacteria occurs in many types of trees, but is more widespread and causes more damage to elms than any other tree. Asiatic and American elms seem to be unusually susceptible.

The bacteria causing this disease lives on the sap in the sapwood of the tree. The diseased wood is water-soaked, and sap oozes out when the wood is cut. Hence the name, wetwood.

In affected tissues, gas is produced in large amounts by the action of the fermenting bacteria on the sap of the tree. This gas causes abnormally high sap pressures to develop, with pressures up to 60 pounds per square inch not uncommon.

These high pressures force the accumulated gas and sap out of the trunk through crotches, cracks or any other wounds in the trunk of the tree. This exuding sap is called fluxing. The sap or flux is tan to brown as it comes from the tree but turns gray to white upon drying. When abundant fluxing occurs, the flux flows down the trunk leaving a white incrustation on the bark when it dries. The white incrustation of the trunk below crotches or other wounds is the most conclusive symptom of the disease.

This material is toxic to the extent that it prevents healing of wounds and frequently kills the cambium for some distance around the crack from which it exudes.

Symptoms of this disease vary with the age and size of the tree. In small trees, there is often wilting of the leaves and brown discoloration of the current-season sapwood. These symptoms are not unlike those present in Dutch Elm, Verticillium wilt, and Dothiorella wilt.

In larger trees, the leaves may wilt rapidly and fall while still green, or the leaves may take on a bronzed appearance before they drop. Leaves that wilt slowly may turn yellow or brown before they fall, with many of the brown leaves remaining on the tree several weeks before they fall. Leaves on some trees may droop and turn yellow, but not wilt while others may turn brown at the tip and between the veins. This wilting occurs when sufficient quantities of the toxic sap that has accumulated in the trunk of the tree is carried into the branches.

This disease is not easy to cure; however, releasing the pressure in the tree, and allowing the sap to flow out will often relieve the symptoms.

Insertion of a drain into the trunk of the tree is the only satisfactory way of doing this. This drain is a hole bored into the tree several inches below the wound from which

High Court Rules Levies On Subdividers Illegal

Cash payments levies on subdividers to aid schools as a requirement for plat approval by plan commissions and municipal authorities are illegal, according to an opinion handed down last week by the Illinois supreme court.

The opinion, written by Justice Walter V. Schaefer, was handed down in the case of Downers Grove and Herman Rosen and Firestone Realty Co. Rosen and the realty firm had brought suit in the DuPage county circuit court protesting the payment. The trial court upheld the assessment practice. Now the high court has reversed the circuit court's ruling.

The supreme court, however, did say municipalities could require subdividers to provide at least one acre of land for each 75 family units for public use.

Thus, in the case of a subdivision where 300 homes are planned a municipality could insist on getting four acres which could be put to public use.

The assessment idea was launched some years ago when subdivisions began mushrooming in the suburban areas. This sudden influx of population presented the schools with a serious problem. The districts lacked funds with which to meet the demand for more classrooms and taxes on the newly built homes were not collected for a year or more after they were occupied. To provide the schools with some immediate capital the subdividers were required to pay over so much a home. At Downers Grove the price was $325 a lot.

"DON'T TELL ME that cocker spaniel is going out again." seems to be what this group of collies -- all misses -- are saying except for the one at the far right who cautioned her sisters. -- "Now, girls don't be catty." She might as well have saved her breath because the gossips were going to have their say. A week ago these pups had five brothers to help them keep the human beings on the place occupied and 10 pups can really keep a place jumping. The pups are owned by the Robert Vaughns on Maple street, Marley. NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Lincoln-Way Nine Wallops Wilmington

BY BILL SLUIS

Behind the four-hit pitching of Jerry Piepenbrink, the Lincoln-Way Knights beat Wilmington's Wildcats 11-1 on Wednesday of last week. Piepenbrink, one of the finest of the Lincoln-Way pitching staff, pitched shut-out ball for the last five innings, the only Wilmington run coming in the first inning on one hit and two errors.

Bob Lichtenwalter, big first baseman of the Knights, paced the Lincoln-Way hitters with three hits in four appearances at the plate, as he scored two runs and drove one across.

The big rally for the Knights came in the second inning when Lincoln-Way scored four runs with only two hits. Singles by Ron Yunker and Les Osborne sparked the rally, which was aided immensely by four Wilmington errors.

The Knights added two in each the third and fourth innings, to give them an 8-1 lead. Two hits by Bob Lichtenwalter and one by Wayne Lauffer spearheaded the rallies. Jerry Piepenbrink, meanwhile, was mowing down all Wilmington opposition as he allowed only three hits during the last five innings without a single run.

In the last half of the sixth inning, the Knights, who won the honor of being "home team" in the game, scored three runs. This rally enabled them to win the game by the "ten-run rule." Roger Christensen was the first batter but flied to center field. The next batter, Bob Lichtenwalter, drilled a solid hit into left field off Bob Rink, starter and losing pitcher for Wilmington.

Then Wayne Lauffer walked and Ray Turney's hit loaded the bases for Lincoln-Way. Rink then walked Les Osborne for one run, and another scored when Skip Kruzich walked. Jerry Piepenbrink then drove across Ray Turney for the winning run with a fielders' choice to second base.

Open House

Decoration Day, May 30, has been set aside as "Open House Day" at the New Lenox Sportsmen's club recreation area, which is located 3 miles South of stop light in Wilmington on alternate 66A. There are memberships available and this day will be an ideal time for prospective members to get acquainted. The beach was scheduled to open on the 30th but this stretch of cold weather could set the opening date back a little.

The club announces they will sponsor two high school students to the State of Illinois Conservation School the week of July 10 to 15 at Springfield. The student must be a sophomore, junior or senior and be from one of the members' families. If interested, contact the club by May 25 so reservations can be made before the deadline June 1.

This past week, Les McAllister member of the club, hooked a 22 inch bass on a green and white daredevil spoon. He did not have a scale to weigh it but a fish that size could weigh 6-6 1/2 or 7 pounds depending on how much girth it had. Here was a fish that very likely could have won the "Bass of the week" prize. Do you know what Les did? He released it back in the lake so some other member would have a chance to catch it.

A good description of a litterbug is "Outdoor Slob". Cans are a common source of littering up an area—put them in a trash barrel or if a barrel is not handy, take them home with you. Many cans are thrown into lakes and streams and become death traps for many small game fish which biologists say they find trapped in the submerged cans.

SPORTS

WINNING TEAM—The quintet sponsored by the Sangmeister Electric Sales Co., finished first in the Businessmen's league which rolled Thursday nights at Frankfort, after a playoff. On the last night of the regular season the Sangmeisters tied the Spotlites for first place and in the roll-off took two of three games to clinch the title. This is the second time in two years that the Sangmeisters have triumphed, the first time a team has won two successive titles in the 20 years the league has been in existence. Trophies were awarded at the annual banquet May 12. Left to right the champions are: Robert Burns, Wilbur Topp, George Sangmeister, Casey Jenkot, and Walter Chaney. (Robert Porter Photo)

Orland Youth Seeks Place On Olympic Team As Walker

Ronald Zinn, of Orland Park and a Sandburg high school graduate now a third-classman at West Point, has his sights set on a berth on the U. S. Olympic team -- as a walker.

Zinn is the one-man walking team of the Point that has put out a lot of foot soldiers in its time. In fact there is a lot of walking at West Point when one considers all the close-order drills, maneuvers and daily visitation to classes but this heel-and-toe business as done in sports is something different.

Zinn lettered in high school football, wrestling and track and in the year he attended Cornell college in Iowa before getting an appointment to West Point, won freshmen letters in football, wrestling track and cross country.

He now works out with the track team and does additional work daily in following his self-training program. Although he is what might be termed a newcomer to the heel-and-toe sport those familiar with it find praise for the performances turned in by the 21-year-old Orland athlete.

Four months after becoming interested in the sport he won the IC4A indoor mile with a fleet 7:07.4 record performance at Madison Square Garden in March. Three weeks later, the 6-foot, 152 pounder won the Open 10-mile.

On July 4 Ron will compete in the National AAU 20-kilometer championship at Baltimore and on July 17 in the National AAU 50-kilometer at Pittsburgh. These are the tests that will decide who will be going to Rome in August to walk for the United States. Followers of the sport note that Zinn does his walking without the wiggles and other movements characteristic of heel-and-toe performers. It is his training as a cadet that accounts for this observers believe.

Zinn faces tough competition in his battle for a place on the Olympic team. Among the veteran walkers he will be contending are Bruce MacDonald, of Port Washington N. Y., and Elliott Denman, of Briarwood, N. Y., who were on the U.S. team in the Olympic games at Melbourne in 1956.

Ron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zinn, Orland Park. He was graduated from Sandburg in 1957.

Hilltoppers Edge Knights 4 To 3 In Joliet Dist. Baseball Finals

BY BILL SLUIS

Joliet Catholic's Hilltoppers squeaked past the Lincoln-Way Knights 4-3 last Thursday in the final game of the Joliet district baseball tournament. Billy Grey, ace south-paw of the Catholic high corps, was the winning pitcher, as he mowed down 14 Knights on strikeouts. Joliet Catholic scored two in the fourth, another in the sixth, and the game-winning run in the seventh.

The game started out with three innings of shutout ball, but in the bottom of the fourth Joliet scored two runs. Freddy Dedin opened the inning with a single, and moved to second on Larry Larsen's groundball. Ed Stonich then got aboard on an error by Wayne Lauffer, scoring Dedin. Stonich scored moments later on a two-bagger by Tom Briesse, the second run of the frame.

But the Knights were undaunted by this twist of fate, as they came right back with a three run rally in the top of the fifth to take a 3-2 lead. Ron Yunker led off with a hit, and Roger Christensen followed him with a walk. Following Bob Lichtenwalter's strikeout, Wayne Lauffer reached first by being hit with a Grey fastball. Ray Turney then hit a perfect "suicide squeeze bunt," scoring Ron Yunker, and advancing Roger Christensen and Wayne Lauffer. Then Les Osborne rapped a clutch single to center field, to score Christensen and Lauffer and give Lincoln-Way the lead. Skip Kruzich also singled before the end of the inning.

The Lincoln-Way lead, however, was short-lived, because the Hilltoppers tied the game in the sixth inning. Larry Larsen opened the frame with a booming 350 feet triple over a light tower in left field on the first pitch. He scored on Ed Stonich's single, tying the game.

Then, with the score tied, JC won the game in the last of the seventh inning. The bases were loaded on a single by Lou Tapel-la, an error, and an intentional pass with one out. With the Knights looking for a double-play ball, Larry Larsen came to bat for Joliet Catholic. Larsen dribbled a hard hit grounder to second baseman Ray Turney of the Knights, but the ball hopped crazily at the last moment and flew over Ray's head into center field. This scored Tapella with the winning run.

The victory moved Joliet Catholic into the regional tournament, where they will probably draw Peotone as their opponent.

Midget Card Slated For Memorial Day

A Memorial Day week-end double header is on tap for midget auto racing fans at Joliet Memorial Stadium Saturday and Monday.

The season's first 50 lap feature race is scheduled Saturday night, and will be followed up Monday night with a program featuring another 50 lap main event.

Bill Beam of Rockdale, the only driver to win a feature race this season, will be gunning for a second straight Saturday night. Rain has forced cancellation of two of this season's three scheduled racing dates.

Altho Beam has made a fast start, most of the track's veterans figure three time track champion and defending titlist Bob Tattersall will be the man to beat. Tattersall, of Streator, is by far the 50 lap champion, winning four last season and two the year before. Determined to outdo Tattersall at the long distance runs this week-end will be such veterans as Danny Kladis of Chicago runner-up to Tattersall last season; Willie Wildhaber of Dwight, Bernie Wilhelm of Joliet; Tony Lenti, Chicago; Bob Harkey, Gary, Ind.; Byron Fisher, Lemont; Ray Elliott Lockport; and George Sellery, Chicago.

Time trials both nights will start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m. Both programs will have four heat races, a handicap and 15 lap semifeature besides the main event.
